Location

A million miles from the nine to five, nestled in an azure sea, lies a secret ... perhaps Nature's best-kept secret. An Island of tranquility and harmony, where Mankind and Mother Nature entwine in a passionate dance of colour and life, and where each visitor is as special and different as the wondrous creatures that grace this Island paradise.

Spread gloriously over Rangali and Rangalifinolhu islands, Hilton Maldives Resort & Spa is located in the South Ari Atoll, 90 kilometres southwest of the capital city Male. There is no more captivating a beginning to a dream Maldivian holiday than the magical half-hour seaplane flight to the resort, coming to rest at the welcome platform, idyllically located at the center of the bridge connecting the two islands.

26 natural atolls, each formed by a natural coral reef give Maldives its landmass. Forming a slender 'necklace' from seven degrees above the equator, the archipelago has 1,190 islands of which 198 are inhabited. The main industry of the Republic is tourism and it is renowned as one of the best dive spots in the world. Its underwater landscape is the most varied, rich and definitely the most famous feature of the islands.

General Information

Area: 298 sq km (115 sq miles).

Population: 269,010 (2000).

Population Density: 902.7 per sq km.

Capital: Malé. Population: 62,973 (1995).

Geography: The Maldives Republic is located 500km (300 miles) southwest of the southern tip of India and consists of about 1190 low-lying coral islands, of which only 200 are inhabited. Most of the inhabited islands are covered by lush tropical vegetation and palm trees, while the numerous uninhabited islands, some of which are mere sand spits or coral tips, are covered in shrubs. A reef enclosing a shallow lagoon surrounds each island. Hundreds of these islands together with other coral growth form an atoll, surrounding a lagoon. All the islands are low-lying, none more than 2m (7ft) above sea level. The majority of the indigenous population does not mix with the tourist visitors, with the exception of those involved with tourism in the resorts and Malé.

Government: Republic since 1965. Gained independence from the UK in 1965. Head of State and Government: President Maumoon Abdul Gayoom since 1978.

Language: The national language is Dhivehi. English is widely used as a business language in government offices and the commercial sector. Other languages are widely used within tourist areas.

Religion: The indigenous population is almost entirely Sunni Muslim.
